Nestle under the stars at Date Night sunset cinema

Couples and friends pack a picnic, bring a rug and nestle under the night sky for a relaxing outdoor movie night on Saturday 11 February 2017 from 6.30pm, with a movie screening from 8pm, at the Town Park, Central Ave, Oran Park.

For the first time, Camden Council is proud to host a Date Night sunset cinema, with a free screening of Crazy Stupid Love (M15+).

There will be live music from The Bells, a local acoustic cover band who will perform some of their own music as well as featuring some favourite cover songs.

Gourmet food options will be available for purchase including cheese platters, as well as gelato, drinks and popcorn to tantalise the taste buds.

“The inaugural Date Night event is sure to be a relaxing evening, where couples and friends can get together and enjoy a free movie screening outdoors,” Mayor of Camden, Cr Lara Symkowiak said.

“Audiences are encouraged to arrive before the movie screening to enjoy live music and delicious food options in an outdoor setting within Oran Park’s new Town Park.”

“With the event being held the weekend before Valentine’s Day, this is the perfect opportunity to celebrate locally.”

“Date Night is Camden Council’s newest event and we’re committed to continuing to deliver a range of events for our local community to enjoy,” Cr Symkowiak said.

Free car parking will be available at Oran Park Town shopping centre car park (entry via Oran Park Drive), as well as Camden Council car park (entry via Dairy Street).

For more information, or to check if the event is still on in the case of bad weather, please contact Council on 02 4654 7777 or visit Camden.nsw.gov.au
