Christmas Gift Giving Tree appeal

Help make Christmas a special time for everyone in the community and donate to the Christmas Gift Giving Tree appeal this year.

Camden Community Connections will distribute the gifts to more than 100 families experiencing disadvantage living in the Camden local government area.

“Some people in our community are facing hardship and are unable to provide gifts for their family this year,” said Mayor Lara Symkowiak.

“Donating gifts to those in need is part of the sharing Christmas spirit. Our community is very generous and I’m sure will get involved in this great cause,” Cr Symkowiak said.

There are six sites across the Camden area for the giving tree appeal: -

- Spring Farm Public School;
- Narellan Library;
- Camden Library;
- Camden Council Administration Building, Oran Park;
- Camden Civic Centre, Camden; and,
- Camden Community Connections Office, Narellan.

Donations can be made before Friday 15 December and can be left wrapped with a gift tag or unwrapped in a bag. Gift tags are available on the trees to write if it is suitable for a child, adult, male or female.

Anyone facing financial hardship this year can register with Camden Community Connections for the Christmas appeal, on 4647 1283.
