Volunteers thanked for community contribution

Council has celebrated the efforts of volunteers in the community at the annual Mayor's Volunteer Thank You reception.

The event was attended by over 200 volunteers from more than 75 community groups assisting in a variety of ways this year.

Mayor, Cr Peter Sidgreaves said volunteers were the glue keeping the Camden community together.

"Volunteers are the backbone of any community and they are no different in Camden," Cr Sidgreaves said.

"Council is fortunate to have so many volunteers dedicating countless hours to a number of events and initiatives including at our Visitor Information Centre, bush care groups and libraries to name a few.

"Our area is also lucky enough to have a large number of residents who dedicate their time to local service clubs including Rotary, Quota and Lions Clubs.

"I thank each and every volunteer for their commitment to making our community what it is today."

Information about opportunities to volunteer for any of Council's groups and organisations can be found on Council's website, www.camden.nsw.gov.au.
