Help your kids score goals these school holidays

Give your children the opportunity to score goals these school holidays at Camden Council's soccer clinics, as part of Council's exciting school holiday program.

Harrington Park resident, Steve Dalmazio, will run the soccer clinics on Tuesday 16 and Wednesday 17 April, 9.30am-3pm at Mount Annan Leisure Centre YMCA.

"The kids will learn soccer skills, including dribbling, passing and shooting, and also different techniques to use on the field," Mr Dalmazio said.

"These clinics are an opportunity for children to meet other kids in their neighbourhoods and make new friends – all while keeping active and building up fitness."

Mount Annan Leisure Centre will have a number of other exciting programs on offer these school holidays, all $55 per child. These include:

- Ninja Warrior on Tuesday 16 and Friday 26 April, 9.30am-3pm;
- Gymnastics Fun on Thursday 18 April, 9.30am-3pm;
- Netball Clinic on Tuesday 23 and Wednesday 24 April, 9.30am-3pm;
- Basketball Camp on Wednesday 24 and Friday 26 April, 9.30am-3pm.

Mayor of Camden, Cr Peter Sidgreaves, said Council's leisure centres and libraries are the places to be these school holidays.

"It's so important we don't let our children's physical activity, education and imagination slide when they're not at school," Cr Sidgreaves said.

"Our extensive school holiday program will make sure kids stay active and creative while having fun, building their fitness and socialising with their peers.

"Our libraries are also running a number of exciting activities – whether your kids want to experiment with science, learn pottery or play dress-ups, our libraries have something for everyone."
