ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COUNTRY

Council acknowledges that the Camden LGA is situated on the sacred Traditional Lands and Waterways of the Dharawal people. We also recognise surrounding Dharug and Gundungurra peoples that may have connections to these lands. We would like to pay respect to the Elders past and present. We acknowledge the stories, traditions and living cultures of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples on this land.

CAMDEN LOCAL GOVERNMENT AREA MAP

OUR CONNECTION

The Camden area has a long history of Aboriginal occupation and is located at the intersection of three tribal boundaries; the Gundungurra, Tharawal or Dharawal, and Dharug. The people of the Camden town location, the western Cowpastures and the adjoining mountainous areas were Gundungurra. The eastern Cowpastures were Tharawal, and the people to the northeast of the Nepean River were Dharug.

CAMDEN COUNCIL BEGINNINGS

A meeting of local notables formed the municipality of Camden at a public meeting in 1883. In 1993, Camden Municipal became Camden Council.

OUR IDENTITY

During 2005, Council formally adopted the platypus (Djimalang) into its logo as a symbol of a Sustainable Camden because although once common in the area, the effect of human activities has impacted on the Nepean River and has seen the decline of the platypus. One of Council's goals is to improve the quality of the river so that the platypus can return to its natural habitat.

Campbelltown-based Aboriginal artist Michael Fardon holds a Bachelor of Visual Arts from the University of Western Sydney.

Michael is a proud Dharawal man and self-taught artist who lives and works on country in a wide range of styles and mediums including painting and digital formats.

Michael works closely with community and schools to create collaborative murals and other works of art with Indigenous students.

OUR VISION FOR THE FUTURE

Camden is a connected, diverse, and thriving community, embracing opportunities of growth, while valuing our rich heritage and protecting and sharing responsibility for our natural environment.

Our vision is built on five key directions to make Camden Welcoming, Liveable, Prosperous, Balanced and Leading. These directions, with the objectives and strategies that support them, give all community members – Council staff, residents, and other partners – a shared and united approach to shaping Camden's future.
