Council and Sport NSW are inviting local sporting volunteers, sports clubs and associations, families/carers, people living with a disability, service providers and interested parties to join and to hear from Disability Sports Australia, Sports Medicine Australia, members of Council's Access Reference Group and local community service providers.

It is an opportunity to network with those in our community that can offer information, advice and support in this space. The forum is designed to bring local sporting clubs and wider community together for a proactive and practical discussion on disability inclusion in sport across our region. The aim is to support community and volunteers, provide information, and to facilitate discussion with key stakeholders in the planning for adaptive/inclusive sport for people living with a disability.
