Business Month supports small business

Small businesses in the Camden LGA can look forward to an exciting schedule of seminars, events and networking opportunities this September, as part of Camden Council's Business Month.

"The local small business sector is a significant contributor to our growing community and economy and Council is committed to educating, inspiring, unifying and strengthening the local business community," said Mayor Lara Symkowiak.

"Business Month in September is Council's opportunity to support all the great businesses that play an integral role in Camden being Australia's fastest growing LGA," Cr Symkowiak said.

"It's vital we grasp opportunities for economic development, investment and stronger connections between business and commercial sectors throughout the LGA to accommodate the rapid growth in our area," she said.

During Business Month 2017, businesses can again take part in a diverse program that addresses a range of needs and issues. Highlights from this year's program include:
