Some new facilities open at leisure centre

The renovation and upgrade of the Mount Annan Leisure Centre (MALC) is nearing completion, with the crèche facility for child minding and new health and fitness rooms now open to the public.

The construction program of the $13.5 million project has been delivered in two stages to minimise disruption to services.

“Embellishing and expanding the leisure centre will provide the community with access to high quality indoor sports and health facilities,” said Mayor Lara Symkowiak.

“The needs of the patrons have been a priority the whole way through this large scale construction project, with the timing of works staggered to reduce the impact on patrons as much as possible,” Cr Symkowiak said.

“The crèche service supports the recreational needs of parents and carers to maintain fitness and good health,” she said.

Features of the second stage of the development include: -

- Expansion of the health and fitness facilities including new amenities
- Upgrade of service desk and entry foyer
- Expansion of crèche facilities
- Upgrade of kiosk and servery
- Additional car parking

The final stages of the works are now being undertaken, including the fitout of the two indoor sports hall with new specialist gymnasium flooring.

A special event will be held after the centre opens in September. The date will be announced soon.
