Multicultural event given new name and date

A celebration of culture will be held as part of a free family event, Cohesive Communities, in Oran Park on Saturday 28 April.

The event is part of Multicultural March which was postponed last month due to wet weather.

“This will be a fun and dynamic afternoon that offers everyone a chance to experience the traditional music, dress and performances of different cultures,” said Mayor Lara Symkowiak.

“We are excited to host this event and enjoy being part of a diverse, growing community,” Cr Symkowiak said.

Headline act will be world renowned vocalist and musician of Uyghur melodies, Shohrat Tursun who will perform with Ghanian percussionist, Yaw Derkyi to provide a dynamic and inclusive musical experience.

The event will also include: -

- A cultural fashion parade with a variety of national costumes;
- Traditional Vietnamese musician;
- Music DJ;
- Traditional dance and song performances by local groups;
- Food and drink available;
- Information stalls for local groups and activities; and
- National dress is welcome.

The event will be held 1pm-4pm Saturday 28 April at Town Park, Oran Park, opposite the Council Administration Building.
