Young people invited to join council

Young people are invited to play an important role in developing initiatives and projects as part of the Camden Youth Council.

The youth council is for people aged 12 to 25 years who are interested in expressing views and contributing to the development of the local Camden community.

“We have a very proactive and productive youth council that generates ideas and hosts events targeted to teenagers and young adults in our LGA,” said Mayor Lara Symkowiak.

“I strongly encourage any young person interested in connecting with their peers and ensuring that important issues are discussed to join the youth council,” Cr Symkowiak said.

“This is an opportunity to become involved in the community at a real grass roots level, with Council’s support,” she said.

The committee helps to plan for local Youth Week NSW activities as well as work on other projects like Paws for a Second as well as individual initiatives targeted to young people.

The Camden Youth Council meets the first Monday of each month from 5.30pm to 7pm at Narellan Library. Anyone interested in attending needs to complete the application form available on Council’s website, www.camden.nsw.gov.au.
