Thousands enjoy first Winterfest Camden

Winterfest Camden has been hailed a success with thousands of residents and visitors attending the event over the weekend.

The inaugural event saw over 10,000 attendees enjoy Larkin Place Car Park being transformed into a winter wonderland offering a massive three days of fun and activities for all to enjoy.

Mayor of Camden, Cr Theresa Fedeli was ecstatic to see the event come to life in such a spectacular way.

“It was truly magical to have such an exciting winter wonderland right in the heart of Camden,” Cr Fedeli said.

“You could see the excitement in everyone’s faces while ice skating as well as taking part in more fun including our life-size snow globe and even the mechanical snowboard ride.

“The live street performers, stall holders and event partners throughout Argyle Street and its surrounds made the event a true Camden winter experience.

“It was equally a great way to celebrate the improvements made to Argyle Street and the Camden Town Centre recently.”
